"Nothing says family and cozy kitchen more than a warm color palette of materials and finishes," according to designer Corinne Gail Sadowsky of Corinne Gail Interior Design. Her go-to hue is Sherwin-Williams Straw Harvest (#7698) "It's a beautiful neutral complement to any design style or warm color palette," she adds.

Color Don't: One of the biggest mistakes a homeowner can make is to paint exposed walls in a kitchen using a flat sheen," says Sadowsky. "It lacks the durability needed in moisture-and mess-prone kitchen spaces. Instead use a low-luster or eggshell sheen."
